ABOARD THE COAST
GARDINER CRAFT
OF NEWPORT, R.I., Aug.
2.—Overhauling her rival, Humboldt's Vanderbilt, the sloop Ranger today scored her second successive triumph over the 11th British challenger, T. O. M. Sop-with's Endeavour II. Ranger rounded the final marker of the 30-mile triangular course with 2 1/2 miles to spare, and won as easily as in Saturday's inaugural.
Ranger crossed the finish line at 1:21 p.m. M.S.T., unofficially, with Endeavour trailing so far behind that she had been deserted by the spectator fleet.

One of the greatest disasters to strike a modern city occurred when volcanoes erupted and destroyed British capital of New Britain island in the Pacific ocean. More than 700 people were killed, and many more were injured by the lava flows which covered the city in a matter of hours. It is stated that the lava flows were so hot that they could be seen from the ship the Golden Hind.

People Still in a Landslide for Dividend

RESOURCES TO PAY DIVIDENDS SAYS ABERHART

No Intention of Borrowing
From Banks, Premier
Tells Calgarians

CALGARY, Aug. 2.—Premier Aberhart told a Social Credit rally at the Amphitheatre here yesterday that Alberta must pay its debts and basic dividends through an intensive natural resources development program.

"We have no intention of confessing from those who have given to those who have not,"
he declared. "That would be foolishness. It would not produce any results and would put us in worse condition than ever."

"We have immense natural resources in the province. We have many men and machines engaged in it. It is our purpose to bring these two together so that there will be increased production and profits for all."

SOCRED PLEDGE IS DISCUSSED BY RED PARTY

Communists To Decide Whether They Will
Swear Loyalty

Definite decision on the question of having the Communist party take the pledge of loyalty to the Social Credit government will be made by the Communist party Monday afternoon at its convention in the grand ballroom here, Lawrence Anderson, party secretary for the province, announced.

"We were interviewed Monday morning by a delegation from the local Social Credit League. They asked us to take the pledge of loyalty to the Social Credit government. We have refused. Aberhart has called the 'blue-pledge'."

"Some of our members met the delegation and we will have a definite decision on the matter at our afternoon session, which will be held in the middle of the day."

"In the meantime," continued Mr. Anderson, "I would like to say that the Communist party is not against the Social Credit government. In fact we are in favor of it."

HOW QUINTS SPLASH AWAY HOT AFTERNOONS IN THEIR WADING-POOL

The splashing begins as soon as the Dionne quintuplets enter the wading-pool, and what's better for splashing than a sand-shovel? Annie, Marie and Marie are wading in the water, and Yvonne, centre, dives her eyes against the flying drops. Cecile and Emilie at the right are also enjoying the splash that a good pal makes in shallow water.

My, what a lot of things you can do in a wading-pool! Looks as though Annie had been pretty hard on shipping, as there are several waves floating dismally on the waves. Emilie is doing a little salvaging at left, while Marie has recovered one boat. Annie, Cecile and Yvonne are combining the best features of sailing and playing. They're doing a big Monday's wading.

ALL ENGLAND HOLIDAYING OVER WEEK-END

August Bank Holiday Sees Traffic Figures in Vast Totals

LONDON, Aug. 2.—A postcard-craze over-August fatigue has London under the eyes and between the arches. All that about and tramping of May is beginning to wane, and a nation that doesn't take its holidays until August—and then packs them in the massed confusion, July has been a long, warm month.

August is a month of a great blow-out. Facts and figures indicate more people will travel from June and do more things this August than ever before.

PLENTY TRAVEL

The east-going Englishman may be shy of statistics but he could not deny the announcement 50,000,000 train journeys are being made over this week-end—the August bank holiday. Even if you cut that in half to allow for coming and going it still represents a good bit of travelling.

At nine a.m. Englishmen had his eye opened in May and set out to take a look around. So many were said about him and his country that "Gad, sir, we must have something."

BUSY RAILWAYS

Somewhere has reckoned English railways will do over 2,500,000 more miles this summer than usual, and do it with a general acceleration of 5,000 miles. 150 special trains will run to crowd points during bank week and 400 coaches will be packed like sardines.

Camping in a railway coach is becoming popular. They are run to out-of-the-way spots throughout the country and the travellers live a life of luxury. There of course there's the old standby of "rented rambles," which present sections of the country with a guide and the rate is inclusive. Thousands of these leave the cities each week-end.

Not all Englishmen are keeping their money in their country. Payable foreign exchange rates have boosted the exodus until the passport office states it issues an average of 1,000 new passports a day.

Air lines report turning away customers for week-end passages and motorists look their cars to the continent in increasing numbers.

AGED EMPLOYEE ENDS SERVICE

Retiring at the age of 72, Edgar Casey, Sanborn Block, received the wellwishes of office staffs in the Bank of Commerce building Saturday. Mr. Casey has been elevator operator in the building for several years.

He received a purse of money and the congratulations of employees on his long period of service. Mr. Casey will move to his home in Edmonton.

Stead, who is 65, served as editor of the Times from 1920 to 1932 and from 1932 to 1936. The bride-to-be is 48. She is a niece of the Earl of Cavendish. Her father was one of the largest property holders in Cheshire.

CHAMBERLAIN GOES DIRECT TO MUSSOLINI

British Premier Waives Formalities and Writes To Il Duce

LONDON, Aug. 2.—A personal letter from Prime Minister Chamberlain to Premier Mussolini reached Rome Saturday and permits credit to the government considered it a significant effort to improve Anglo-Italian relations.

They said it indicated the Prime Minister had taken over direction of the empire's relations with Italy from Foreign Secretary Eden, who had contacts with Italy's leaders have been cordial since the crisis over Ethiopia two years ago.

Although government sources declined to state fully that the letter was sent, it was admitted at 10 Downing street that it was "quite likely." At Rome it was stated the letter had been received at the foreign office and was forwarded to Premier Mussolini.

It was recalled at 10 Downing Street, however, that Count Dino Grandi, Italian ambassador to London, had a private meeting with Chamberlain last week.

"As a result of that meeting it seems only natural for the Prime Minister to send a message to Premier Mussolini," who is Count Grandi's chief, it was said.

VALENCIA LINE PENETRATED, REBELS REPORT

Loyalist Cabinet Will Ask League For Imposition Of Sanctions

By The Canadian Press

Spanish insurgents struck Sunday at Madrid's connections, with Valencia, temporary capital, by thrusting a wedge into the junctions of French, German and Italian provinces.

Four villages were captured, an insurgent communiqué stated, with several miles of territory falling into insurgent hands. In Cuernavaca province the government's "iron columns" was reported forcing to leave Valencia before an insurgent force.

BEATEN BACK

Madrid said it had beaten back a new insurgent thrust in the Utrera sector south of Madrid with heavy casualties. The reverse ended the attempt to capture the government's salient in the Villanueva De La Canada sector, temporarily at least, the government said.

Government reports that revolt against the insurgents had broken out at several points behind the Fascist lines were denied by General Francisco Franco's headquarters.

ASK SANCTIONS

Government sources said these insurgent actions in foreign nations, which look part in the "insurrección," the drive to capture the government's salient in the Villanueva De La Canada sector, temporarily at least, the government said.

BERLIN, Aug. 2.—Hans von Helldorf, 63, former minister of the Prussian government, died today at his home at Fahrenburg, in Lower Saxony.

AFTER THE WADE COMES THE CLEANUP

The summer pleasures of the wading-pool call for a little wash-up before the quints go back to the nursery, especially if sand-pits and shovels figure in the play. Here Marie leads her ad to Cecile who is reluctant to abandon her sand-pail.

But when it comes Marie's turn to be scrubbed up and gotten ready to leave, there are apalls. Marie Emilie isn't as gentle with Marie as Marie had been with Cecile. In fact, it looks as though Marie is giving that shoe a pretty little tug. Or maybe Marie just doesn't want to leave the wading pool so soon, as who would on a pleasant summer afternoon? Little quints like this pass quickly.

Maybe just a little more busy play with the watering cans will set everything right again. This looks like it with Yvonne and Emilie in the foreground busy making the most satisfying splashes with the little sprinkling cans. That Marie at left, still turning her back a little huffy, and Annie at right, far too busy with her water can to pay any attention either to photography or little antics.

Now it's really time to leave the pool, and "round to the fact that all good things must end. Yvonne stands quietly while Cecile gives the back of her neck a last inspection. "We're home" says their first year. The quints enjoy the wading-pool thoroughly.

HERTZOG HUFFED AT LONDON USES EMPHATIC TALK

LONDON, Aug. 2.—Pressure by the Union of South Africa for transfer of three British protectates to the Union has ruffled the smooth waters left by the Imperial conference.

London and Cape Town were taken by surprise when Prime Minister J. B. Hertzog of South Africa, after arriving home from the conference, alleged the British government was delaying transfer of the territories—Bechuanaland, Swaziland and Basutoland.

He declared "It is unacceptable for me to accept that there can be much further delay in the transfer of the territories of the Union government should be completed by 1 Jan. and prepared to accept the reply given by the British minister in Pretoria, Mr. Hertzog, to the Union government.

Mosquitoes are Kept Awake by Orchestra

CHICAGO, Aug. 2.—No mosquito can get his right legs of sleep if an orchestra keeps him awake all night.

For that reason, a delegation of citizens, from Round Lake, Ill., headed by William Shaw, lodged a complaint with Sheriff Lawrence Doherty of Lake County.

George Sadowski, owner of the Fairview Inn, on the shores of Round Lake, they said, let his orchestra play on the lawn until 4 and 5 o'clock in the morning.

The "consequence, both to Great Britain and South Africa, that would follow such a step would be so irrevocable that for the time being I am not prepared to accept the reply given by the British minister in Pretoria, Mr. Hertzog, to the Union government.

BRITAIN IS READY FOR EMERGENCY: FAST RESERVES

British United Press
LONDON, AUG. 2.—Great Britain today is prepared for any "national emergency." Plans for the mobilization of industry and the fighting services are practically complete; vast reserves of oil fuel have been accumulated for use by the navy, and huge supplies of food and raw materials are in storage.

Mystic Rites Mark Tweedsmuir's Entry Into Santa's Domain

Viceroy Greets King, Gets Ahead One by Asking Where the Queen Of Snows Is.

ABOARD STEAMWHEEL DISTRIBUTOR ON MACKENZIE RIVER, N.W.T., Aug. 2.—Lord Tweedsmuir was greeted to the Arctic circle Saturday night on the Mackenzie river and welcomed to the north for the first time by King Santa Claus and his retinue who came aboard this ship from a motor boat, garbed in Arctic dress.

Initiated

LORD TWEEDSMUIR, who was given the well known "word" when he reached the edge of the Arctic in his trip north. He followed the custom of the newly initiated by buying a drink after the ceremony.

Furthermore the naval re-building program has been speeded up and is well advanced, while all but one of the 123 new air squadrons formed when the rearmament drive began will be up to full strength by this month.

These encouraging statements have just been made in London by Sir Thomas Inskip, minister for the coordination of defense, after months of silence during which the prime minister's department has been working in secret to ensure that Britain shall be in a position to defend her interests in any part of the world immediately they are threatened.

NOT BADLY DAMAGED
He instanced the quality of British warships by recalling that H. M. S. Hunter, which was struck by a mine off the Spanish coast recently, was not even seriously damaged.

As far as London's aircraft defense went, he said, everything was 100 per cent complete—except the personnel to man the guns.

Recruitment, he said, was something less than 50 per cent of what was necessary, and he appealed for recruits to this and other units of the country's defense forces. He said the government was preparing plans whereby a large number of men would be offered to ex-servicemen.

GIANTIC PROGRAM
"Few people," he said, "realize the gigantic nature of the work we undertake when we decided on rearmament."

He went on to say that the first step in the event of war breaking out would be the mobilization of the factories of the country. He said it is estimated that the wartime program would require for twelve months of production of 4,000,000 tons of wheat, 1,500,000 tons of cotton, 1,000,000 tons of sugar, and 6,500,000 tons of butter or margarine.

New numbers of leading iron and steel firms are planning a national campaign to increase production, which households will be asked to sell their unwanted brooms, forks, spoons and garden tools.

BRITAIN HAS NEW PLAN FOR ARMS, PAPER REVEALS

LONDON, Aug. 2.—The war office is putting the finishing touches to a plan for reorganizing the British army which will be presented to parliament with great pomp and circumstance in the autumn, the News of the World today.

The scheme would call for abandoning the system, in effect since 1914, whereby the regular army was divided into the regular army and the territorial army.

The new plan, the article continues, would provide for the creation of a "home army," to insure adequate protection for the United Kingdom and overseas territories.
